

royd, District of Columbia; A. M. Scott, Maryland.

This afternoon Washington witnessed another parade even more touching than that of yesterday. It was composed of a small band of men, but veterans who endured more horrors and agonies of war than their brethren who march yesterday. They were the Union Ex-Prisoners of War, men who languished in prisons—Libby, Andersonville, Florence and elsewhere in the south—for months and years and suffered hardships beyond description.

Such was the ordeal through which these men passed in stockades and bullet pens that where one of them survived several score died. These indeed are men made of the sterner stuff, hence their presence here today.

White House Reception.

Headed by the Civil War Musicians, an organization composed exclusively of men who beat the drum or sounded the fife to inspire the Union warriors as they rushed into the fray, the Ex-Prisoners marched up Pennsylvania avenue to the White House, where they were given a special reception by President Wilson.

They were accompanied by many other veterans anxious to see the president of the present Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy of the nation. President Wilson arranged to devote several hours to the personal welcoming of the veterans at the Executive Mansion, and they trooped there in full force to meet him.

Survivors who were not accredited delegates found much to occupy their time today. A great number of them, particularly those who saw service in the first and second battles of Bull Run, went to Manassas to attend the unveiling of a peace jubilee tablet.

The marker was placed in the field where the Union and Confederate veterans gathered and embraced each other in 1911 in the presence of President Taft and Governor Mann of Virginia. Many Confederate veterans were invited to join with the G. A. R. survivors in dedicating the tablet.

Two Exhibition Drills.

Reunions will be held throughout the day in Camp Emery by the veterans of the various army corps. These affairs will be featured by song, story, and addresses, and smokers.

Two exhibition drills will claim the attention of the veterans this afternoon, one at 3 o'clock by the signal corps, which will demonstrate the use of the radio pack outfit, a small wireless equipment transported on the backs of mules, and the other at 4 o'clock by the medical corps, which will give a lance drill, showing how the wounded are treated by the medical corps.

Those who have not had time to be the warships anchored off Potomac Park, are invited to go today. Numerous sightseers and tourists to the exhibition are in automobiles here today.

JOHN D., JR., SCORED BY "MOTHER" JONES

"Is Making a Bigger Fool of Himself On This Trip," Says Laborite.

"John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is making a bigger fool of himself than ever on this trip of his through Colorado," "Mother" Jones, widely known as the "Miners' Angel of Mercy," said today. "And I'll tell him about it the first time I see him," she added with a chuckle.

"Mother" Jones called at the Department of Labor today to pay her respects to Secretary Wilson. The purpose of her visit in Washington is to endeavor to see President Wilson and intercede for the structural iron workers imprisoned at Leavenworth for complicity in labor dynamiting. Applications for pardons for President Ryan and his associates in prison are pending.

It was in response to a challenge made by "Mother" Jones, who she visited 25 Broadway a year ago that John D. Rockefeller decided to visit Colorado and learn for himself the condition of the miners employed by the Rockefeller coal interests there.

"But this trip won't do Rockefeller any good," "Mother" Jones insisted. "I told him to go to Trinidad alone, call all his miners together in a mass meeting, and hear their grievances. Instead he is out there surrounded by his satellites, Mackenzie King, and the rest, and he is seeing only what they want him to see, and hearing only the things they want him to hear."

"Dancing with the mine boss' wife, and borrowing the mine superintendent's nightgown when he sleeps in his cab, will not put any more food in the stomachs of the underpaid miner and his wife and babies," "Mother" Jones continued, referring to some of the spectacular features of Rockefeller's visit to the coal camps. "It will not end the injustices suffered by the men who have been treated as serfs, and who lived through the horrible scenes at Ludlow when their wives and babies were murdered by the hired gunmen of the mine owners."

"I wish I had known Rockefeller was coming out when I was in Colorado two weeks ago. I should have staid out there and made it my business to see that Rockefeller saw the things he should see and heard the things they are keeping from him now," "Mother" Jones added. "He can't expect to learn anything about conditions on an excursion like this that is personally conducted by his hired men."

STOCK MARKET BOOM CAUSED BY OPTIMISM

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The present booming stock market is the natural result of a wave of optimistic sentiment which is sweeping over the United States, according to William C. Van Antwerp, one of the governors of the New York Stock Exchange.

"This is indicated," Van Antwerp said today, "by the fact that the buying is coming from all over the country."

"The increased stock prices are the result of the buying of a confident people. Advances like we have seen in the last few days only come from confident buying. Many things have happened and are happening to encourage buying of securities."

"The success of the allied loan is a big factor in the situation, as it indicates sentiment is favorable to continued prosperity in America."

"The great crops and the increased earnings of railroads have created confidence among the big interests of the country."

"The big gold reserve is another omen of good times."

"All these things have renewed faith in America's business future. No greater

Annoyed By Speeding, Steer Charges Auto

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 30.—Dr. Levin West and William Schnauffer, both of Brunswick, had a narrow escape when their automobile was charged by a large steer, one of a herd that grazed along the Jefferson-Frederick State highway.

The animal, annoyed by the speeding machine, separated from the herd and charged, with head lowered. Its horn penetrated the radiator. The steer was so badly injured that it had to be killed.

We open the season
With Suits at $14.95

Thirty-five years in this same store! Think of it! Think what that proves for reliability!

Never before have we opened a fall and winter season with a price below $20, and now when we are quoting $14.95 you may be sure we are remembering our 35 years of reputation and have not lowered our standard of quality one iota.

There's a demand for a first-class suit at about this price and we've used the "Kaufman" name and the "Kaufman" resources to the limit with our manufacturers to secure it.

It's a competitive price—a competitive value—and we'll back this offering to equal the $25 lines of the shops in our class.

We are putting them up to the man who has always paid $25, and who has expected to pay $25 this fall. We ask him to come here and convince himself that we are giving an equal value for $14.95.

We'll dress the young fellows in the very latest style features; we'll show the older men such conservative models as are appropriate; we'll dress them both in $25 values and save them at least $10.
